

Guide to Residual Dealings

A guide to the requirements for lodging a Residual Dealing in South Australia

Functionality has been introduced into the South Australian Integrated Land Information System (SAILIS) to enable the electronic lodgement of dealings, known as “Residual Dealings,” which were previously not electronically tradable.

The table annexed to this User Guide details the Residual Dealings that can currently be lodged electronically in South Australia as of November 2021 and includes a summary of the requirements for each. This User Guide and annexed table will continue to be updated as additional functionality is introduced to allow the lodgement of additional Residual Dealings.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

Verification of Identity

When a conveyancer or solicitor represents a client, the conveyancer or solicitor is responsible for verifying their client’s identity. For further information, refer to ARNECC Model Participation Rules Guidance Note 2 – Verification of Identity available at https://www.arnecc.gov.au/publications/mpr_guidance_notes

Evidence

Existing evidence requirements remain the responsibility of the certifying party, however in certain instances the production of evidence may be required with the lodgement of a residual dealing (e.g. a court order/certificate with a Cessation of Lien). In these instances, the evidence must be in PDF format and be uploaded into the electronic workspace to support the residual dealing.

Signing

Electronic dealings must be signed by an Electronic Lodgement Network (ELN) Subscriber.

A Client Authorisation is required to give the client’s conveyancer or solicitor authority to sign the Registry Instrument or dealing on the client’s behalf.

A Client Authorisation is required whenever a Conveyancer or Solicitor represents a client in a transaction. Where a Conveyancer or Solicitor is an employee of a Subscriber company and acting for their employer company under its Principal Subscriber account, they are exempt from providing the Client Authorisation Certification pursuant to section 273(2) of the Real Property Act 1886.

Please note that although a Certification is not required in this instance, the Practitioner must still obtain a Client Authorisation from their employer to act on its behalf. Evidence of a properly completed Client Authorisation will be required for any Compliance Examination conducted by Land Services SA. Further information can be found in Notice to Lodging Parties #233.

For further information, refer to the ARNECC Model Participation Rules Guidance Note 1 – Client Authorisation available at https://www.arnecc.gov.au/publications/mpr_guidance_notes
